I voted Yes on H.J.Res. 98, relating to disapproval of an exercise of authority to increase the debt limit.

I supported this procedural resolution, provided for by the Budget Control Act, because it is an opportunity for Congress to signal that we are committed to controlling spending and putting our nation on a path to long-term fiscal stability moving forward.

The resolution was approved by a vote of 239-167-2.