

ENDICOTT, N.Y. -- Today, U.S. Rep. Richard Hanna and state Senator Tom Libous issued the following statements on BAE Systems choosing the Huron Campus in Endicott, N.Y. as its permanent location in the Southern Tier:

"Today's announcement that BAE Systems will permanently locate in Endicott is great news for Broome County and the Southern Tier," Hanna said. "These are exactly the kind of quality, good-paying jobs that we need in our community."

"Businesses operate in a competitive environment with many options, so I was pleased to work with BAE, Senator Libous and Broome County Executive Debbie Preston to help keep these jobs in Broome County," Hanna added. "I look forward to continuing this partnership so that BAE remains an anchor for high-tech Broome County industry."

Libous said he also looks forward to BAE Systems operating in Endicott.

"This is welcome news and I'm pleased that I was able to work with Congressman Hanna and Broome County Executive Debbie Preston to ensure BAE Systems would remain in Broome County," Libous said.
