

ROME, N.Y. - A local Congressman toured a Rome school focused on STEM education Tuesday.

Representative Richard Hanna spent time with teachers and students discussing the benefits of their curriculum, which gives students hands-on experience in the science, technology, engineering, and math fields.

Watch the full video at WKTV.com.